Presenter Alex Jones has called on communities across the UK to support the teams as they ride through this month. Colleague Matt Baker said 'I hope that the UK gets out on the streets as they have done in the past; it's this support that will get us to the finish line'

BBC's One Show to bring the 'Rickshaw Challenge' to town

CYCLISTS taking part in a 'Rickshaw Challenge' for BBC Children in Need will be pedalling through the town later this month.

From November 8, riders, including presenter Alex Jones from BBC's The One Show, will visit all four UK nations, pedalling around the clock to cover approximately 700 miles and raise money for charity.

'Team Rickshaw' will be made up of five young people, each supported by projects funded by Children in Need, including Alex.

Four of the riders will be partnered with a parent. Rickshaw veteran Matt Baker will also support the ride, acting as a mentor and cycling with the riders on their 8-day relay journey across towns and cities around the UK.

The teams are set to pass through Luton on Friday November 15, on their way to the BBC's Elstree studios for the live Children in Need appeal show.

CCTV plan to protect taxis

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

CABBIES are considering installing CCTV in their cars and asking passengers to pay up front following attacks on drivers in recent weeks.

The proposals were discussed by representatives from the Luton Borough Drivers Union (LBDU) and officials from Bedfordshire Police and Luton council during a meeting on Friday, October 25.

Among the measures discussed was the requirement for passengers to pay the full fee before the journey commenced, as well as installing CCTV and screens in vehicles.

Waseem Ilyas, vice-chair of the LBDU, said the union, which had previously criticised the police for being 'really slow' to respond to incidents, had been pleased with the force's 'engagement' at the meeting.

The union's plan comes after another attack this week in which a gang of between 20-30 youths wearing Halloween masks smashed the back window of a taxi on Thursday night in Littlefield Road, Stopsley.

Mr Ilyas said CCTV and asking for fares up front would deter trouble-makers. He also said the majority of attacks were being carried out by youngsters and he called upon parents to take more responsibility.

He said: "We are thinking of making it mandatory for all the customers to pay up front and the police and local council have no issue with that.

"With regards to stone throwing at taxis and buses, a lot of that is being done by teens and we want the crime prevention team to go into schools and say that crimes such as these are unacceptable.

"Some of them think that they are getting away with it because they are too young. If that is the case then parents need to take more responsibility. We are also looking at putting up CCTV cameras in our cars."

A spokeswoman for Bedfordshire Police said: "We are going to continue to liaise with the taxi drivers in Luton to ensure all lines of communication remain open.

"Bedfordshire Police don't have infinite resources available and deal with calls on a case-by-case basis, assessing the risk to the individual and when an incident has actually happened.

"In some cases where incidents are reported hours after an offence has taken place, an appointment system is in place.

"Anyone who is a victim of crime should contact Bedfordshire Police as soon as a crime has taken place.

"If anyone is in danger or if the offender is still in the area officers will attend."

A council spokesman said: "It was helpful to meet with the trade representatives as we do not get notified of incidents. We will continue to support the police with the production of documents promoting how taxi drivers can keep safe.

"We have also suggested a scheme of 'safe areas', working with the police and local petrol stations.

"While no specific issues were raised about lack of council support, we have also offered to review the specification for CCTV and screens should the trade wish to fund and fit these themselves.

"Ultimately the issue is with the trade and the police with regards to responding to incidents within the town and a programme of bi-monthly meetings has been put in place."

Barnfield is selected to run new primary school

BY JORDAN DAY

editor@lutonsunday.co.uk

THE Barnfield Federation has moved a step closer to running a new primary school in Cambridgeshire – despite being under investigation.

Cambridgeshire County Council's cabinet met on Tuesday to decide who it wanted to sponsor the new school in North Ely.

Members chose the Barnfield Schole Academy Trust as its preferred sponsor – despite being aware the organisation is being investigated by the Department for Education (DfE) and the Skills Funding Agency (SFA).

It was one of six education providers that applied to the council to run the new school, due to open next September.

The decision comes a week after a spokesman for the SFA said it had 'received allegations' against Barnfield which were being taken 'seriously' in a joint investigation with the DfE.

The inquiry is looking at the Federation's finances, as well as its information systems and management systems.

Luton MPs, Gavin Shaker and Kelvin Hopkins, have also written to the DfE voicing their own concerns about the Federation and Mr Shaker has said he is hoping to quiz Education Secretary Michael Gove on the matter.

In the meeting, Cambridgeshire's executive director for children, families and adults recommended that members chose the Barnfield Schole Academy Trust, saying in a report the organisation had demonstrated 'the greatest understanding of the local context in which it would operate'.

They added that it had shown 'experience in setting up schools in sometimes challenging environments'.

David Harty, cabinet member for education and learning, told the cabinet that the council had learned of the investigation only after an assessment panel had made its decision.

He said: "Whilst I remain confident that the panel was right to select Barnfield Schole Academy Trust as their preferred sponsor, there is a possibility that the Secretary of State may decide not to enter into a funding agreement with the trust by December 12, 2013."

The cabinet agreed that should that happen, The Active Learning Trust would become their alternative preferred sponsor.

The final decision now lies with the Secretary of State.

Traders move in to Dunstable 'pop up' store

AN EMPTY shop in Dunstable has been transformed into a 'pop up' outlet for entrepreneurs.

The 'pop up' store, which opened in Ashton Square on Thursday, is set to run for three months, allowing new start-up retailers to share the space on a regular basis.

Four businesses have already moved into the space, which can house four start-ups in total. They will trade until November 14, when a new set of firms will replace them.

They include soap makers Anosmic Soaps, artist shop Transparent Images, fashion store Riri Roo Fashions and pom pom sellers Bespoke Pom Poms.

Dunstable Town Council, which is responsible for the day-to-day running of the store, said the launch event had been a success and it called on residents to get involved in promoting the scheme.

A spokeswoman said: "The launch went very well and we are really pleased with how the shops are looking. We hope the people of Dunstable will get behind the project and shop there."

The council hopes the scheme will give the high street a business boost

MASCOT CHANCE FOR FOOTIE FAN

FOOTBALL-MAD Callum McGeorge had the ultimate fan's experience when he won the chance to be an official match-day mascot – and meet the Chelsea players in their dressing room before kick-off.

Callum, 11, of Macaulay Road, Luton, won the chance to walk out with the team when they played Manchester City on Sunday, October 27.

The youngster, who attends Barnfield West Academy, then watched the match with his father, Danny, in VIP seats.

He said: "All of the players made me feel really special, and I was really happy about meeting my hero Eden Hazard."

Callum's dad added: "We all had an absolutely fantastic day."

"We got to spend about thirty minutes with the players in the changing room which was an absolutely brilliant experience."

He then exposed himself to her and shouted as he grabbed her arm. The victim then ran home and alerted the police.

The man had an Asian appearance, was between 30 and 40 years old, 5ft 6 tall with a medium build and black bushy hair.

Passengers horror at (corn) snake on a plane

BY LAUREN ARCHELL

lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

POLICE and border force officers met a flight into Luton this week after a snake was found on a plane.

Passengers recoiled in shock as the reptile was discovered in a man's pocket on the easyJet service from Tel Aviv in Israel, on Wednesday evening.

Questions are being asked as to why the snake was not discovered by security before the flight.

The scenario was compared to the 2006 film 'Snakes on a Plane', the plot of which centres around a gangster's plan to crash an aircraft before it arrives in Los Angeles by planting a crate of venomous snakes on board to kill the passengers and crew.

Despite the similarity with the film plot, this incident was not as serious, as the reptile found was in fact a non-poisonous corn snake.

Passenger Rafi Addleston said that the snake had been in the man's top pocket the whole time and during the flight he brought it out. He saw that one passenger had to be moved by airline stewards as she was frightened and the snake was then put into a takeaway box.

He added: "I found it funny and the first thing I thought of was the film 'Snakes on a Plane'. There was a mixed reaction from the passengers."

A spokesman from easyJet said: "We can confirm that a passenger brought a small snake in a container onboard a flight from Tel Aviv to Luton.

"As soon as crew became aware of this they dealt with the issue in a professional manner, immediately contacting the authorities.

"The safety of passengers is always our highest priority.

"We have raised the issue with the airport to understand why the reptile was not detected during security."

Adrian's planning a wheely big trip

BY LAUREN ARCHELL

lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

A PUB owner from Luton is taking on a 32-hour endurance challenge on his motor-cycle to raise funds for two local girls.

Adrian Robb (pictured) who runs Bar 32 on Cumberland Street, will be travelling through all 32 counties in Ireland in 32 hours to help collect cash for Zoe Davies, who has a chromosomal abnormality and needs 24-hour care.

Accompanying him on the trip is staff member Marie Forde, who is raising cash for Lily McGlashan who was diagnosed with a rare form of neuroblastoma cancer.

Speaking ahead of the challenge, Adrian said: "I thought it was time I arranged an event to give something back. I know Zoe needs a car seat worth £2,000 so that is the minimum I am hoping to raise."

The pair will be starting out in County Antrim on Thursday morning, following a fund raising night in Dunloy and are hoping to end in County Cork on Friday at 4pm.

On their return next Saturday (November 9), there will be a huge charity event with all staff members helping to raise money for their own special causes.

To help support Adrian on his charity ride, visit www.bar32luton.co.uk.

Hero supports new lottery

A SOLDIER from Luton has pledged his backing to a lottery which supports injured and disabled servicemen to find suitable properties to live in.

Michael Swain attended the launch of the Coming Home lottery with Ambassador Sarah Harding this week, as the charity assisted him in finding a suitable home where he now lives with his partner and two-year-old son.

In November 2009, the rifleman was in Southern Afghanistan when he was injured by an improvised explosive device (IED) which resulted in him losing both legs above the knee.

The lottery will bring in much needed funds to the campaign, as 50p in every £1 comes back to the charity.

For your chance to win up to £25,000 a week, sign up online or download a form at www.coming-home.org.uk/content/play-our-lottery or call 020 8685 5787.

Police are searching for this stolen custom-built BMX bike

Teenager made to strip during robbery

AN 18-YEAR-OLD was forced to strip during a violent assault in which his bike was stolen and pictures taken. The victim had been carrying his BMX bike home in an alley off Milton Road at 6.30pm on Wednesday when three men approached him. They attacked him before forcing him to strip and taking his bike. He was left with bruising and swelling to his face and head. Anyone with information can contact Bedfordshire Police on 101.

Nursery nurse in sex assault jailed

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

A MALE nursery nurse was jailed for four years on Wednesday for sexually assaulting a three year-old girl in his care.

Steven Munn, 30, had pleaded not guilty to sexual assault, but was convicted by a jury at Luton Crown Court.

He pleaded guilty to eleven charges of making indecent images of children and one charge of possessing 476 images.

The incident first came to light when a mother at the nursery where he had worked for 11 years was told by her daughter that a man at the nursery had intimately touched her. The offence, which Munn, continues to deny, occurred in January 2012. After the offence police found he had been viewing child abuse images on his computer.

Judge David Farrell QC made an order that neither the school nor the victim should be identified but he lifted another ruling and said Munn could be identified.

He told Munn: "It is every parent's nightmare that their child could be abused by a pervert such as you, particularly when that child is entrusted to you in the environment of a nursery."

He said that, in addition to the jail term, Munn would never be allowed to work with children again, must register as a sex offender for life, and be monitored under a Sexual Offences Prevention Order indefinitely.

MP wants town's Xmas card photos

LOCALS are being asked by an MP to help him create his personal Christmas Card. Gavin Shuker is running the contest, in association with Luton on Sunday, and it will see the winner invited for a Westminster tour with their family and Christmas dinner at Parliament.

The theme for the photo is 'Luton at Christmas' and it is open to everyone in the town. The winning entry will be used on Mr Shuker's cards this year.

Send entries to carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk. Deadline is November 14.

SNAP: Mr Shuker says he wants to promote creativity

Girl, 9, hit by car while out trick or treating

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A NINE-YEAR-OLD is in hospital with a fractured collar bone after being struck by a hit-and-run driver while she was out trick or treating.

The girl was out with friends and adults on Thursday at about 5.25pm at the junction of Markyate Road and Front Street in Slip End.

The group was using the pedestrian crossing at the junction when the child was struck by a silver Ford Focus.

It is believed the car was being driven by an elderly white man who failed to stop, turning right into Front Street and leaving the scene.

The girl was taken to hospital for treatment.

The officer in charge of this investigation, PC Mark West, is keen to speak with anyone who can help identify the driver or anyone who can help trace the car.

Anyone with information can call Bedfordshire Police on 101 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Police are also searching for a gang of between 20-30 youths who were responsible for smashing the back window of a taxi while wearing Halloween masks.

The group surrounded the vehicle at around 8.20pm on Thursday in Littlefield Road, Stopsley, and then launched their attack.

The driver was also assaulted and the vehicle heavily damaged.

It is believed repair costs will run into thousands.

Half Marathon route 'cut the town in half'

SIR – I have just written to Luton Borough Council with two complaints about the road closures for the Half Marathon on Sunday.

First, I fully understand that these sort of events have to take place on a Sunday and that roads have to be closed for safety reasons, but the route that was chosen cut the town in half, with no obvious way from one side to the other.

On a Sunday morning we go to Church at Central Baptist Church in Park Street. We come from Leagrave, our route being, Hatters Way, Telford Way, Hucklesby Way, Guildford Street, Church Street and Park Street.

I enquired at the parking shop in the Town Hall as to my best route. Their best suggestion was that I park in Cumberland Street and walk around the corner.

This is all very well, but of a Sunday morning Cumberland Street is usually full. This means

CONCERNS: The half marathon route and road closures caused issues for some people that our only option was to park in the Vicarage Street car park and pay for the privilege Tim Newns,

Address supplied

SIR – I am reeling at the events that I and my neighbours observed this morning during the marathon road closures.

Why did they bother to close roads as the marshals on my road were letting traffic through for no other reason than people wanted to come through.

Some went slowly, others at speed with no regards to the safety of the runners. I and my neighbours are not very happy about this. Well done to all the runners.

Jean McGuinness,
Black Swan Lane, Luton

- Love Luton Response:

"We had been promoting the half marathon for months and that it was closed road race. 2,500 letters went out to residents who were directly affected.

Two specialist convoys formed the front and back of the half marathon. The one that led was putting the road closures in place and we did this as late as we possibly could.

As soon as the last runner was through and it was safe, we lifted it as quickly as we could. As it was a rolling road closure, diversion signs would not have worked as they would have to change every time you reopened a road.

All roads were reopened by 1.15pm and marshals tried their best under difficult circumstances letting residents through when it was safe. The road closures protect both the runner and the motorist.

The consensus is we should host this event again and any issues that have arisen will be part of the de-brief.

We have had many positive emails from runners thanking the sponsors for a fantastic event!"

Libraries can't close

SIR – I couldn't believe what I was reading when I saw the announcement that Wigmore Library, Stopsley Library and the Mobile Library will close.

Libraries are the centre of any community, and aren't just a place to take out books. For the elderly they provide some human interaction, for mums and dads they provide baby and toddler groups, for teenagers the internet access is crucial for homework and research.

Of course the books are still there, and there is nothing better than getting lost in a good book.

I agree with campaigners – these communities will be duller places without the libraries and although a decision appears to have been made, the fight must continue.

There must be a way of turning these libraries into community hubs – open during the day with normal library services, and a space for clubs and events in the evenings.

I for one would volunteer to help out and I'm sure many others would too.

Think of the animals

SIR – During the Bonfire Night season, please spare a thought for the animals and birds who may be terrified by the deafening crashes and blinding flashes of fireworks.

Traumatized dogs are rushed to vets for emergency treatment; sheep can spontaneously abort; horses gallop into fences; and rabbits have been known to die from the shock.

Animal Aid believes that, for the sake of all animals, fireworks should be sold only to organisers of public events and not to individuals wishing to set them off in their gardens or in the street.

A ban on sales to the general public would also prevent the terrible cruelties reported every year of vicious individuals deliberately harming animals with fireworks.

We can minimise the impact by keeping cats and dogs indoors from the afternoon onwards, and bringing rabbits and guinea pigs inside as well. Also, please check that hedgehogs and other wild animals have not made a home in your bonfire before you light it.

Kate Fowler,
Head of Campaigns – Animal Aid

Warning on asbestos

SIR – All Hallow's eve seems an appropriate moment on behalf of The UK Asbestos Training Association (UKATA) to remind all your readers planning a bonfire during the Halloween-firework season to ensure that what they are putting onto their bonfires is not concealing a hidden killer.

Your readers might be forgiven for asking why the warning, after all, asbestos is an historical problem, isn't it?

Sadly this misconception contributes to the deaths of those who unknowingly come into contact with a substance that still poses a very real risk to public health.

An increase in fly tipping has followed the economic downturn and some unscrupulous companies have resorted to dumping asbestos waste illegally. Our fear is people will unknowingly pick up asbestos and throw it on the bonfire, with potentially fatal consequences.

Asbestos remains a hidden killer, as diseases relating to it can take 20 years to develop and there is no cure. Over 4,500 people still die every year as a result of breathing in asbestos fibres and asbestos remains the biggest single cause of work related deaths in the UK.

The last thing anyone wants to see is fly tipped asbestos adding fuel to this fire.

The message is simple. Under no circumstances be tempted to collect and burn any unknown materials.

Have a happy Halloween and November the 5th, but remember to stay safe.

David Nichol
UKATA Vice Chairman

Time to kick it out

SIR – We applaud the recent comments by Prince William in relation to stamping out racism in all areas of football, but while it will take more than words to solve the problem, texting could be part of a solution.

As the Prince quite rightly stated, the 'Kick it Out' campaign is marking rather than celebrating its 20th anniversary and whilst tremendous progress has been made, clearly there is still much work to do before we can consign racism to football's history. As an avid football supporter and manager of UK-based software company, Aquarium Software, I know first-hand how SMS technology could be deployed to gauge reaction to an incident of racism as it happens.

This allows lessons to be learnt and more importantly, assists in the pinpointing, identification, control and management of a potentially difficult situation.

These technologies are not science fiction, but science fact and available right now in all our pockets, making it a powerful tool to combat racism.

Racism has no place in Football. At its heart, football is inclusive and thus the very opposite of racist. I hope we finally stamp it out once and for all using education and technology in equal measure.

Luke Todd
Aquarium Software

No frills, no sun, just Lowe-cost holiday fun

I AM spending this half term in Potting – as in pottering around the house or more precisely tackling a list of DIY tasks set for me by the present Mrs Lowe. Various tradesmen have been brought in to do the more complicated works and I am left to do the DIY tasks suitable only for the under fives.

Anyway the reason why I am spending this half term break in Potting is due to the enormous cost of actually going ANYWHERE during this period.

Holiday companies and airlines see the economic advantages of hiking up their prices to the extent that only the Osbornes and Camerons can afford the luxury of a short break in the sun or Center Parcs.

No wonder parents sneak their children out of school during term time – I am quite convinced that many would not be able to afford a holiday at all if they didn't. Schools of course are outraged by the damage that this can do to a child's education although training days, early closures etc seem not to have any effect on it at all. Our expectations have changed over time. I cannot remember in my childhood anyone going away for any half term breaks.

Two weeks in Yarmouth or Skegness in the summer holiday was your lot if you were lucky and half terms were meant for spending days with your mates exploring in woods, cycling around the countryside, collecting frogs and toads and disappearing for hours at a time – uncontrollable and untraceable until tea time. Oh I wish...

Parents did sometimes insist on spoiling these halcyon times by deciding to take us out for the occasional 'day trip', usually to visit an aged relative or worse still 'a drive in the car'.

This usually culminated with us sitting in a freezing cold Triumph Herald in a dark pub car park for hours, scrapping with my brothers with a bag of crisps and a bottle of pop – while my parents indulged in the way you could before drink driving laws.

Despite the inconvenience of not being whisked away to Antigua, my daughter is at home relatively content with being surrounded by every Apple product known to man to amuse her and communicate with her friends.

I can only imagine the look of horror if I suggested spending the day making dens in a field or driving around the local countryside for hours pointing out interesting aspects of the environment. She would be on to Childline before you could say 'make mine a Tizer'.

Anyway I couldn't afford the petrol which would probably come in only slightly cheaper than a flight to the Costa Del Sol. So Potting it is.

It may not be the best weather but I can make a cup of tea when I like, the wine is cheap, I speak the language and I don't have to send postcards. I might come here again next year.

Police closed the road whilst workers cleared the spillage

Drivers delayed by lorry's fuel spillage

COMMUTERS were severely disrupted earlier this week when an overturned lorry leaked fuel onto the road.

The vehicle, which was on the A505 at Dunstable Road under the M1 bridge at Junction 11, spilled diesel over the carriageway at 6.30am on Wednesday.

The road, including the slipway onto the M1 motorway, was closed whilst the fuel was cleared.

Police later re-opened the road at around 10.30am.

Eight years jail for £1.2m tax fraudster

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

A LUTON businessman who fled to Pakistan after being charged with a £1.2m tax fraud has been jailed for eight years in his absence.

Mohammed Farook was found guilty after a trial at Luton Crown Court on Tuesday in which there was no defendant in the dock and no defence barrister representing him.

The court heard that for more than 11 years, between January 1, 2001 until September 23, 2012, Farook failed to make income tax and VAT payments. He charged VAT to his tenants, which included Luton Borough Council, but paid over only £689.42.

Farook, 53, of Old Bedford Road, was convicted of two offences of cheating the public revenue of income tax and VAT.

He had previous convictions for theft and fraud in 1982 and 1986. He received a suspended sentence in 1982 and that was activated in 1986 and he was jailed for a total of three and a half years.

The jury heard that in November 2001 Farook bought Stuart House in Upper George Street, Luton for £1,250,000 and rented offices to tenants. It is now a hotel.

It was calculated that the money he now owed in VAT and income tax, as well as interest, was almost £1.2m.

The prosecutor confirmed that Farook is a UK citizen with a UK passport. Confiscation proceedings are to follow.

Help children who need loving homes

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

AS NATIONAL Adoption Week starts tomorrow, Luton Borough Council is asking for more people to come forward to provide 'forever families' for the 26 children who are in need of loving homes in the town.

Unmarried couples including same sex couples living together may adopt, as well as single people.

One person who has been through the process is Alan Harman, who is in a same sex relationship. He is encouraging people to adopt.

Alan said: "We saw a number of authorities but when we visited Luton it just felt right. "We felt very welcome and wanted and we also quickly met our social worker who we got on with very well."

Alan and his partner have two children who are now six and four years old; the first came to them as a baby under one year old and the second before their second birthday. Now the council is aiming to dispel the myths that you have to be married, be in a relationship, or be heterosexual to adopt.

The authority is holding an adoption information evening on Wednesday, November 6 between 6pm-8pm at Stopsley Baptist Church, St Thomas' Road, Luton.

Adoptive parents will be on hand to share their account of the process and social workers will also be able to answer questions. Call the Adoption Team on 01582 547804 to reserve your place.

Curtain is going up for Young Producers

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

A GROUP of young people who are learning the art of theatre production are preparing to put on their latest show in Luton.

The 100% Young Producers, who meet weekly at The Hat Factory, have been looking at all aspects of what goes on behind the scenes of a show, from writing press releases to looking at marketing and designing flyers.

The final product is a showcase called The Mix, which will feature around 10 local acts and a look back at the history of the Hat Factory.

Trainee producer Ellen Waghorn, who is helping to facilitate the group said: "The last show was a great success and we are sure this year will be even better."

"I have high hopes that Britain's next generation of theatre producers will come from Luton."

"This show has been created in under six weeks and has been created by them, for them. I hope."

Shannon Spain, who has been learning about the role of a press officer during prep-

PREPARATION: The group works on the finishing touches for 'The Mix' before it goes live next Friday at The Hat Factory arations for The Mix said: "This has been a great experience for us."

"We are all hoping to eventually work in the creative industry, so learning what goes into producing a show is fantastic."

Charlotte Read added: "I had responsibility for creating the posters and flyers."

"I had done a little bit of designing before but it was completely different being involved with a project from start to finish and seeing the final product being stuck up in shops."

"The Mix' will be live at The Hat Factory on Friday, November 8. Tickets, which cost £10 for adults, £8 for concessions, £5 for students and £3 for under 18s, can be bought by visiting www.the-hatfactory.org, or calling 01582 878100.

A number of tickets will be available on the door on the night.

Fears as cats die due to poisoning

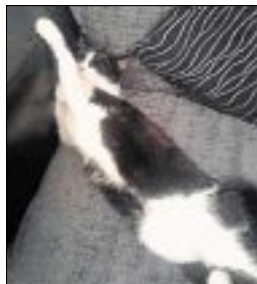

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

THREE cats have died as a result of being poisoned in Luton – and the RSPCA fears it could be deliberate.

The latest incident was on Sunday, October 27 when Ebony, a four year-old black cat, returned home to Santingfield South after being missing for two days.

As she was disorientated and not eating, her owner took her to the vet. But she later died from kidney damage. Vets concluded that Ebony had been poisoned, and the most likely source was anti-freeze.

Ebony's owner lost two of her other cats Poppy and Smoky, a year ago after they

Poppy (left) and Ebony may have been victims of deliberate poisoning showed similar symptoms.

It is also thought that owners in nearby South Drift Way have lost cats to poisoning.

RSPCA inspector Stephanie Law said: "We always appeal to people to be careful when using anti-freeze as the taste can be appealing to cats and causes an agonising death.

"We can't rule out the possibility that someone is poisoning animals deliberately."

Those with information should call the RSPCA inspector on 0300 1238018.

'Wear your poppy with pride' urges Luton's Mayor

MAYOR of Luton, Councillor Sheila Roden, is encouraging people to buy a poppy in support of The Royal British Legion's annual Poppy Appeal.

This year the Legion's fundraising campaign will focus on the work it does to support the families of serving personnel, those currently in transition from military to civilian life, and veterans.

Every poppy goes towards raising the £1.6 million needed by the RBL each week.

Cllr Roden said: "By buying a poppy you are helping to raise funds to demonstrate to our Armed Forces that their efforts have not gone unnoticed.

"Please give generously and wear your poppy with pride."

Are you thinking about adoption?

Did you know that there are three children waiting for every adoptive family?

We are appealing for people who are thinking about adoption to get in touch with us.

This National Adoption Week we will be working hard to find families for children in care, especially those who wait longest. This includes black and minority ethnic children, children with disabilities, older children and sibling groups.

The number of children referred to the adoption register this year is 20% higher than last year and sadly there has been a decrease in available adopters.

At St Francis' Children's Society we are committed to reducing this number of children waiting, we would like all children to be in loving, stable homes.

St Francis' adopter Janet said "If I could turn back the clock I would not have wasted so much time and money on fertility treatment and would have adopted years ago.

I will never forget meeting them at the foster home – these three tiny children came running up saying, 'here's our new mummy and daddy.'"

The first time parents met their adoptive children: "They came to the door and let us in. With our hearts pounding, we walked through into the front room to be greeted by our daughter who said, 'You're my forever mummy and daddy' (I'm in tears just thinking about it). Then she took me by the hand and led us to the conservatory where she was playing with some bricks with her brother. It felt so natural for all of us, I think particularly for our daughter, who seemed to really lead the way. Not long later the social worker left; we stayed for about another hour and then said our goodbyes. We sat in the car, exhilarated. We had met our children and they were everything we had hoped and more."

Matching children with their new parents is only the beginning. We are completely committed to providing our adopters support at every stage of their journey. One of our parents say "We adopted in 2005 and I still feel I can pick up the phone and there will be help."

We offer our parents access to support groups, workshops, counselling and advice lines, we offer a programme of children's and family events. A new specialist therapeutic family centre is being built to enhance the support post adoption for adopted children and their families.

There are many myths about adoption... You don't have to be a home owner to adopt. You can adopt if you have a disability. Adoptive parents can be single – you don't need to be married or in a relationship. Potential adoptive parents can be in a relationship but unmarried. You don't have to be wealthy to adopt a child; we just need you to be able to financially support your own lifestyle.

In November we have two opportunities to meet our specialist social workers and an adopter to help you understand more about adoption and if you would like to start your journey to parenthood with us.

A special thanks to VW in Towcester for offering to host an additional adoption information evening for potential adoptive parents on 20th November at 6.30pm - 8.00pm.

Help find families for children by telling others about our information events for people who are thinking about adoption.

BUPA PUT WELL-BEING AT THE HEART OF WINTER

As winter sets in it can be a trying time of the year for us all, but particularly for older people. For many it's a time when the cold weather and dark nights can make them feel at their most vulnerable and when they may need more help and company. But, it needn't be this way. Spending winter in a care home can provide companionship, friendship, support and care when it's needed most.

Making the decision to move into a care home, even temporarily, can be a difficult one, both for the individual and their family. However, those who do so, soon discover that they are no longer just enduring winter, but actually enjoying it once again.

Working in partnership with Royal Voluntary Service, Bupa want to help elderly people both in care homes and the wider community to stay well by offering advice on how to keep physically and mentally well this winter. Their Get Ready for Winter guide includes some top tips to help older people prepare for winter. What's more, to give you a helping hand in eating well this winter, some of Bupa's care home chefs have shared a few of their favourite comfort food dishes in a free Eat Well in Winter recipe booklet.

Bupa has a wide network of care homes across the UK providing secure, warm and inviting environments.

Ali gears up for a show packed with chart hits

MUSIC

IndigO2 at the O2, London
Friday, December 6

HOW does one of the UK's most distinctive musical voices deal with being 'betrayed' by his former band with whom he sold over 60 million records worldwide?

By going it alone and carving out a new chapter in what has already been an illustrious career of course. When Ali Campbell, the former front man of hit reggae band UB40, left the group in 2008 following a dispute, he said he felt he had 'been betrayed by his own band'.

But since then he has gone on to launch a successful solo career, releasing three albums and touring the world.

And although the scene has changed somewhat for him, Ali says he is still loves promoting reggae music and getting ready for live performances such as his major London show in December.

So, how has he changed over the years? "I was naive and optimistic when I started but I was always aggressively promoting the music that I loved", says Ali. "I started UB40 to promote reggae music and I am still promoting reggae."

"I still don't think it gets the amount of radio time that it deserves."

He adds with a laugh: "But the difference now is that I am bitter and twisted and resentful. I've been through the mill and I have been betrayed by my own band so I have had a rough time of it in the last sort of decade, but I have come through it and I am still doing what I set out to do which is to promote reggae."

Playing in front of big crowds is what most musicians live for and Ali is no different. He says he can't wait to grace the O2 stage next month.

What can the fans expect?

Ali says: "What we do everywhere, all around the world, (is) we draw from the 40 top 20 hits that I had in the 80s and 90s with UB40 so everyone knows the songs that we play."

"I don't, as a rule, put new material in the set but at the Indigo in London I will be playing some new songs because that's for my bona fide hardcore fans that come to see me every year in London."

"I think they'll enjoy listening to one, two maybe three new tracks on the album."

Ali says his new album has seven original tracks and seven cover songs, including his own version of 'Silhouette' by Herman's Hermits.

How did he find time to squeeze in the production of a new album and preparing for all the shows?

He says: "If you add up all of the time we spent making the album, it took us about 30 days. We'll have three or four days rehearsals to do the new songs but this is a professional band I've got who have played with most reggae bands that have come through England - they're session players basically."

"We've been together for five years now so we don't spend a lot of time rehearsing because they're so good and that's why I love them."

Over the last 18 months, Ali Campbell and his new band have been touring across the world and making a new album

For your eyes only: Meet 007, the man with the golden acting career

AN EVENING WITH...

SIR ROGER MOORE

Milton Keynes Theatre

Wednesday, November 13 at 7.30pm

IT is a grey and dreary Monday morning in Bedford. I am about to call Roger Moore, yes, you read that right, Sir Roger. Moore: The Saint, a Persuader and the longest-serving, suavest 007 ever, James Bond.

Sir Roger is at home in the tiny seaside principality of Monaco where the Alps tumble dramatically down into the Mediterranean and the number of resident millionaires outstrips the number of police officers (of whom there are lots).

I dial the 14-digit number and he answers the phone, pausing momentarily to say hello before resuming his description of the problem he is having with his computer to the man who has come to fix it.

He apologises, puts me through to another extension and we're off.

Do you recall the moment when you knew you wanted to become an actor?

"I was 16 years old and I was an extra, playing a Roman soldier, on the movie Caesar and Cleopatra starring Vivien Leigh and Stewart Granger.

"Well, whether it was the short toga I was wearing or the long spear I was carrying, I was spotted by the director and was asked 'did I want to be an actor?' It was my big break. I was told that my parents would have to be prepared to support me through drama school. I rushed home and told my mum that I was going to become Stewart Granger.

"When I auditioned for RADA, as I said the very first line of my first speech, I knew that that was what I wanted to do.

"After drama school I did a couple of plays, doing a bit of singing and dancing, and a season of George Bernard Shaw plays and then the army stepped in. The fact that I had yellow jaundice didn't stop them pronouncing me A1 fit and I was posted off to join a regiment in Bury St Edmunds where I was told 'it's the 1 Corps for you, my lad'. I had no idea that the 'I' stood for Intelligence - shows how intelligent I was.

"I was posted to Germany where I had a bad smash in a jeep and ended up in hospital in Hamburg. I realised it was the ideal chance to go mad. So I pretended to be off my rocker so I could join the Combined Services Entertainment (CSE). It was the best performance I ever gave."

In a long and distinguished career what job has given you the most pleasure?

"I've enjoyed them all - except a couple of films that I made abroad. That was a bit odd. Everybody making a hell of a lot of noise in a language I didn't understand.

"But the role I really enjoyed was in a movie called The Man Who Haunted Himself.

"It was wonderful. I had to play two sides of the same character; the good and the evil - which was great fun because the evil side came quite naturally to me. And I was allowed to have a moustache! Perfect to hide behind."

What is the most bizarre memory of working you have?

"I was making a film with an actor called Walter Hamlyn who died suddenly one day, on his way to the studio, when we'd already done some long shots with him. "They replaced him with Alan Napier; the problem was that Hamlyn was 6ft tall and Napier was 6ft 7.

"Later Napier was replaced by Sir Cedric Hardwicke - who was only 5ft 9 tall. There was one very odd scene in the final cut in which all three of them made an appearance as the same character..."

What shape does An Evening with Sir Roger Moore take?

"My assistant, Gareth Owen chats to me on stage about my life and my career. He needs to be there because my failing memory needs a little prompting."

The audience can put questions to you as well, have you had any that have flummoxed you?

"Well, I do get fed up with 'Who is your favourite Bond girl?'"

Ummm, who IS your favourite Bond girl?

"I don't have favourites."

And if you could do it all again?

"I have no regrets. The only thing I might do differently is pay a little more attention to business matters..."

...but, as he was speaking to me from his lovely home in tax-free Monaco, I don't think things can really have been too bad.

November 11

IT IS RARE for an artist of the stature of Sian Phillips to appear in Luton but Music on Mondays have managed to book her for their Remembrance Day concert at the Library Theatre.

Her career stretches back nearly seventy years, and has covered every genre of acting, from radio and television to film and theatre work, garnering critical acclaim in all her fields of endeavour.

For her Luton appearance, she will contribute to an evening of words and music on the theme of War and Peace, which will mark the 99th anniversary of the end of the First World War.

Also appearing will be writer, actor, poet and performer Ben Mellor, who has toured Australia this year, and appeared at the Edinburgh fringe with his show Shaggy Doggerel, co-written with Dan Steele.

He is keen to nurture writers of the future, and runs workshops to encourage the up-and-coming.

On the musical side, Edgar Bailey (violin), Matthew Featherstone (flute) and Philip Shannon (piano) will be contributing a diverse selection of music, ranging from Vaughan Williams' The Lark Ascending, and Prokofiev's Flute Sonata, to the theme from Schindler's List by John Williams.

Tickets can be ordered at www.lutonmusic.org.uk or by calling 01582 547474.

'The School' is a first class act to enjoy

THERE'S nothing wrong with a blast of daft humour on a dark November night, now is there?

In fact, it seems that the more we've got to laugh at, the better.

So bring on the silly sketch outfit, WitTank, with their hit Edinburgh show, The School.

The three stars of BBC Three's Live at the Electric and BBC Radio 4's Sketchorama – Keiran Boyd, Mark Cooper-Jones and Naz Osmanoglu – invite you into a deranged and archaic institution with a dizzying array of loveable eccentrics, diabolical lunatics and malevolent buffoons.

The WitTank trio race through a succession of public school-themed scenarios worked loosely into a plot that skips through time and setting while rooted firmly in class.

So tuck your shirt in, sit up straight, keep off the grass, don't answer back and most of all, no laughing!

Tickets are £10 each and can be purchased by visiting www.bedfordtheatre.co.uk or calling Central Box Office on 01234 718112 for more information.

FILM PREVIEWS

Gravity & Hunger Games
In cinemas this month week

THIS week our film expert Gavin Miller takes a look at the biggest films coming out over the next month.

The Hunger Games: Catching Fire (PG)

Release date: November 21

Directed by: Francis Lawrence

The massively successful original ignited a box-office stampede – and this sequel (pictured) starring Oscar-winner Jennifer Lawrence (best actress for Silver Linings Playbook) could be even bigger.

After becoming victors at the Hunger Games, Katniss (Lawrence) and Peeta (Josh Hutcherson) leave their friends and family to embark on a victor's tour of the districts.

But with a rebellion simmering after their success, they become targets of the ruling hierarchy and President Snow (Donald Sutherland) – unhappy at their new iconic status.

Woody Harrelson and Liam Hemsworth return – with Oscar-winner Phillip Seymour Hoffman joining the cast.

Gravity (12A)

Release date: November 8

Directed by: Alfonso Cuarón

One of the most highly-anticipated films of the year finally makes it to these shores – and is one of those rare films that MUST be seen in 3D if at all possible.

After a record-breaking October box-office over Stateside – it has already amassed more than $200m – this intense thriller from Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban director Alfonso Cuarón sees medical engineer Ryan Stone and veteran astronaut Matt Kowalski (George Clooney) battle for survival in deep space.

The duo have to work together after their shuttle is destroyed on a seemingly routine space walk – in this already critically-lauded heart-pounding.

For bookings and tickets contact Cineworld Luton on 0871 200 2000.

NEWS Bubble?

UK house prices have risen to a record level, according to the Office for National Statistics (ONS). The average price of a house or flat in the UK is now £247,000, the ONS said, the highest figure since the index was first calculated in 1968. The figures suggest house prices are rising in England, Wales and Northern Ireland, but still falling in Scotland. The news may add to concerns that the UK could be facing a house price "bubble", although many feel that these fears have been overplayed.

THE BOROUGH OF LUTON (HITCHIN ROAD) (TEMPORARY ROAD CLOSURE) ORDER 2013

NOTICE is hereby given that Luton Borough Council, the Highway Authority for the said Borough, intends to make the above Order under the relevant provisions of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 (as amended).

The effect of the Order will allow the Council to temporarily introduce a road closure on the length of road specified in the schedule below.

The Order is required to facilitate engineering works associated with the removal of fuel storage tanks on or near the specified length of road. The Order will be operative from 11th November 2013 for a maximum period of 6 months. The road will only be restricted as and when traffic signs are in position and may not be affected for the whole of the period but only for so long as is necessary to execute the works. The Order will therefore be in operation when signs are displayed.

Access will be maintained as best as possible to properties where this may be done safely whilst such works are being carried out and diversions for traffic will be marked by signs.

3rd November 2013

ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984 - SECTION 14(1)(A) AND REGULATION 16(2) OF THE MOTORWAY TRAFFIC (ENGLAND AND WALES) REGULATIONS 1992
THE M1 MOTORWAY (JUNCTIONS 10 TO 13) (TEMPORARY PROHIBITION OF TRAFFIC) (NO.3) ORDER 2013

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Secretary of State for Transport has made an Order on the M1 Motorway in the Borough of Luton, Central Bedfordshire, Milton Keynes and the County of Hertfordshire, to enable essential carriageway maintenance including central barrier upgrade, surfacing and remedial works to the overhead gantries, to be carried out in safety.

The works are expected to take place overnight (10pm – 6am Mondays to Thursdays, 10pm – 7am Fridays and Saturdays and 10pm – 5.30am Sundays) for a period not exceeding 3 months between Tuesday 5 November 2013 and Friday 31 January 2014. The works will be carried out in phases using a combination of lane closures allowing traffic to run on the hard shoulder of the M1, and full carriageway and slip road closures. The closures will be applied only to the extent that is necessary for particular works to be undertaken and will only apply during such times and to such extent as would be indicated by traffic signs.

The effect of the Order on the M1 will be to close -

1. the entry slip roads to, and the exit slip roads from, the northbound and southbound carriageways of the M1 at J10, J11, J12 and J13 – diverting traffic wishing to enter or leave the M1, on or off the motorway at the nearest open slip road and return to the original junction via the opposite carriageway in order to continue their journey, and
2. the northbound and southbound carriageways of the M1 between the exit and entry slip road at J10, J11 and J13 – diverting traffic off and back onto the motorway via the exit and entry slip roads.

The closures (which will not apply to emergency service, traffic officer or works vehicles) and diversion routes will be clearly indicated by traffic signs throughout the works.

The Order will come into force from 22:00 hours on Monday 4 November 2013 and continue in force until 31 January 2014.

SOCKET TO 'EM

Let's face it, as it stands right now, the Toyota Prius Plug-in isn't going to have mass appeal. That's why the company has instigated this relatively small-scale trial of 600 cars. Putting a toe in the water seems wise.

The lithium-ion battery technology seems to work very well and points the way forward, but it's expensive at the moment and there aren't going to be too many customers who will want to pay over £27,000 for a Prius, even if it is fantastically economical.

For a wealthy buyer who maybe has a five mile commute into a London workplace, the Prius Plug-in is an absolute boon. Its refinement and restful nature will take the stress out of city driving and the fact that trips to fuel stations can be reduced to a bare minimum will be a major plus in terms of convenience. Does it work out cheaper to run than a normal Prius? Only in very extreme instances, but as a technological step forward it will doubtless appeal to early adopters.

IN the shadow of the Angel of the North, neither Gateshead or Luton Town were blessed with a saviour as a game that promised so much delivered little more than revolting weather conditions as they battled to a dreary 0-0 draw.

Town have not registered a goalless draw since a similarly drab affair at Hereford in late September but they looked a silhouette of the side that had previously hit 26 goals in nine games as Gateshead bossed much of proceedings.

But for a 90th minute save from Mark Tyler via a James Curtis header, both keepers could have left their gloves at home.

On the upside, a tenth game unbeaten and a further point gained on league leaders Cambridge United after their shock Southport defeat but nevertheless, a shoddy afternoon on the banks of the Tyne.

In the build-up to the game, Town were hoping the curse of the Manager of the Month award would arrest the Tynesiders from their current rich vein of form.

Just one defeat in eight games and top of the league's form pile had seen boss Gary Mills catapulted into the spotlight and playing down talk of a move down south to fellow Skril Premier side Forest Green.

Perhaps not the best time to make the longest trip of the season up to the north-east but with the Hatters in decent shape, the game promised much.

However, sod's law delivered a game of opposite fortune.

An unplayable pitch at the Gateshead International Stadium for half of last season meant the Heed had to hit the road to fulfil their fixtures but having relayed their surface over the summer, the new area looked carpet-like.

It was the home side that utilised the swish surface to better effect in the opening stages as they showed just why they are rapidly climbing the table at present.

Phil Turnbull's drifted free-kick left Tyler flapping but Curtis' weak effort was cleared calmly by Steve McNulty.

Former Sunderland and Everton midfielder John Oster also showed touches of class down the right to the appreciation of the small but enthusiastic home faithful.

But for a wayward Luke Guttridge shot, Town were very much out-of-sorts and but for another vital McNulty intervention in the 23rd min-

LUTON RFC made it three wins on the bounce yesterday, dismantling newly promoted Woodford 64-5 on the road in the London 1 North.

"I'm pleased but I feel for Woodford," said Luton's backs coach Nick Rhodes.

"I know how it feels to be on the end of a proper stuffing, which is what we handed them today, very little went right for them."

Luton ran in nine tries and might have scored more.

Tom Wilmore scored a hat-trick, with Luton's other tries coming from Mike Weston, Rik Hobbs, Tom Mahendren, Ryan Staff, Brandon Lewsey and Doug Fluker, with Hobbs also kicking a penalty and eight out of a possible nine conversions.

"Man for man we were fitter, stronger and faster," said Rhodes. "I said at the start of the season we'd be in the top three, and nothing I've seen this season has caused me to doubt that."

STOCKWOOD PARK moved to the top of Midlands Three East (South) following a 40-22 victory over Bedford Queens. Leading 18-17 at the interval thanks to tries from Alex Lovell and Carl Burgoyne, and two penalties and one conversion kicked by Jason Carr, the game looked evenly matched as Queens held the slight upper hand in the pack. The second half saw Stockwood score four tries to Queens' one though, with scores from Dave Keating, Joe Flatley and Burgoyne. Carr added a try of his own and a single conversion as Stockwood took control.

"I was very pleased with the result," said Stockwood first team coach Stephen Morgan. "But in terms of the match, I thought both teams played to Queens' strengths. With that behind us, we can focus on our own strengths next week."

DUNSTABLIANS were beaten at home, 41-23 to Newbold on Avon who have won every game in Midlands 2 East South.

Tries from Jonathan Warner, Stuart Hall, Eric Malanga and Simon George at least earned Dees a bonus point.

Gateshead International Stadium

IN WHERE IT HURTS: Steve McNulty in action in the north-east

but Hatters earn a point ute after a neat Jamie Chandler lob they would have been behind.

In a rare Town attack, Jake Howells, on his 250th Hatters appearance, almost forged an opening with a deceiving free kick but McNulty could not direct the loose ball on target.

All involved were more than happy to leave the pitch at the break as a traditional northern downpour cast across the International Stadium.

Town's 302 hardy following huddled at the back of the away stand shielding from the elements, wondering if the 500-mile round trip had been fully worthwhile.

Both sides hit four goals in their previous Skrill Premier meetings but as this cagey affair went on little suggested an influx of goals in the second period.

Lewis Sirrell's fierce 57th-minute drive did inject a brief moment of interest but thankfully for Luton it slammed off the imperious McNulty and flew tantalisingly over Tyler's bar.

At the other end, joint top scorer Guttridge dragged a good opportunity wide of the far post and moments later they wasted a four-on-two counter attack as Paul Benson failed to tee up Howells.

That traditional northern downpour soon turned Gateshead into Mongolia in monsoon season.

A drenched Still and his men were praying for a point as the game entered the final 15 minutes.

Come to that, they would have been happy to see the conclusion of the match as visible standing water started to appear.

Despite being on the back foot for the majority of this severe stalemate, the Hatters boss felt the presence of Alex Wall could ruffle the Gateshead backline as he was introduced in the 83rd minute for the quiet Howells.

It was the Heed who forced the final act as Curtis' sprawling header almost beat the redundant Tyler but he clawed it out of the air with ease.

An uneasy afternoon's viewing for the masses but another hard-earned point on the road that will be preferable to a rearranged fixture in midweek had the rain eventually led to a postponement.

As well as Cambridge's surprise defeat, the Hatters were further boosted by second place Kidderminster Harriers also slipping up at Barnet.

The Aggborough outfit were defeated 1-0 by Edgar Davids' side with John Still's men, in third, subsequently cutting the gap between them and Harriers to just one point with Cambridge now seven clear.

League action again takes a back-seat on Saturday when the Hatters travel to fellow Skrill Premier outfit Welling United in the first round of the FA Cup.

This represents a fine chance to make it through to round two as Town look to repeat their heroics in the competition last season, when they reached the fifth round, beating Premier League Norwich City 1-0 at Carrow Road along the way.

Town's run in the FA Trophy is brought to an end in Wales

LOCAL FOOTBALL

BY MATT DESAI
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

DUNSTABLE Town were knocked out of the FA Trophy at the second qualifying round stage yesterday after suffering a 3-2 defeat at the hands of Merthyr Town.

The Blues twice came from behind, but a failure to convert chances into goals ultimately cost them a place in the next round, though they will certainly feel they did enough to force a replay.

An artificial surface was to thank for the match going ahead in blizzard-like conditions in South Wales, and they played a telling part in the game's opening goal.

With just six minutes gone, Danny Murphy's headed back-pass was cruelly held up in the wind, allowing Ian Traylor to latch on and slot home for Merthyr.

Numerous chances followed for the visitors, with Lee Roache and Leon Cashman both going close, and Town finally got their reward on thirty five minutes when good pressure on The Martyrs back-line eventually resulted in forward Chirs Marsh heading The Blues level.

However, just two minutes before the interval, Merthyr regained their lead, with Traylor netting his second of the match after a goalmouth scramble, sending his side in ahead.

Dunstable, now with the wind on their side, restored parity for a second time, on sixty-five minutes, and it was no more than they deserved. Murphy's teasing free-kick was met by Roache, who headed into the back of the net from close range.

A barrage of chances followed for The Blues, who were now very much in the ascendancy, with Danny Hutchins and Roache again going close, but they were unable to make their pressure count for anything.

The hosts continued to ride their luck, and cashed in on their good fortune with just over fifteen minutes remaining, taking the lead for a third time as substitute Ryan Prosser came off the bench to net the winner, after another penalty box scramble, sealing a 3-2 win.

Elsewhere, BARTON ROVERS stayed top of the league after a 2-1 victory away to Potters Bar Town at Parkfield.

Two goals in three second-half minutes ensured the win for Rovers, despite a late fight-back from the hosts.

Luke Knight and Bilal Hassan got the goals for Dan Kenney's side in the final twenty minutes, after a scrappy and goalless first-half.

Tobi Akin pulled a goal back for The Scholars with five minutes left on the clock, but it proved to be no more than a consolation.

Rain hit draw a 'decent day out' for Town's boss

DRAW IN THE RAIN: The Hatters faced tough conditions in Gateshead
Picture: Gareth Owen

BY TOM SHARP
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

SOME in attendance may view it differently, but Luton Town manager John Still proclaimed his side's goal-less Gateshead display yesterday as a "decent day out". Torrential conditions throughout much of the shoddy 0-0 encounter deprived the 1080-strong crowd of any real quality as both sides failed to continue their impressive respective form.

While the Hatters had won four of their five league and cup games in October, the home side had blitzed all-comers in the same month with five consecutive wins to set up a tantalising affair at the Gateshead International Stadium, but neither side was able to snatch the three points.

Nevertheless Still was not disheartened by a turbulent showing in the far north.

"Today I thought our organisation was first class," said Still.

"For both sides, I think if conditions had been better there might have been a goal or two in it.

"It is a long drive but it is always nice when you can go home when you feel you have earned something and today we did.

"Overall, it has been a decent day out for us."

Still was sympathetic of his team's lack of vibrancy in the final third and felt the game could have swung Town's way had he been afforded more frontline artillery to choose from before the game.

"I think we suffered slightly in the wide areas without Alex Lawless or Shaun Whalley today because we did not really have anyone to beat their full-backs," said the Luton boss.

"Shaun and Alex are really good at that but Shaun had a bit of an issue with his hamstring earlier in the week and Alex is still not 100 per cent so we could not risk either.

"Instead we were left with Jake [Howells] who holds the ball more than beats players and Luke Guttridge when, perhaps on another day in different circumstances, we could have had some joy from Shaun and Alex in those wide positions."

From a 500-mile round trip to the FA Cup first round next weekend as Luton travel to fellow Skrill Premier side Welling looking to stretch their unbeaten run to eleven matches.

"To be honest I do not see much of a difference between playing at home or away but we are in a little bit of a spell where the away games are coming thick and fast in all competitions," said Still.

"We want to go further in the cup because we want to do well in everything."
